TRANSFORMATIONAL LEADER

Transformational Leader

Good leadership matters for transforming a drive into reality. A legendary leader can transform merely a drive into reality by his charisma, dedication, initiative and commitment to the society, and above all, to the organization.

Dr. Muhammad Yunus transforms his drive and vision of alleviating poverty from the rural Bangladesh by building an organization of 8.61 million borrowers scratched from only 42 borrowers by his initiative.

Kind of exploratory research based on secondary information which has been collected from journals, websites and books.

It is found that his vision of building a bank for the poor who are not bankable by the traditional banking system comes true by his transformational leadership style backed by his drive, vision, charisma, desperation, commitment and faith on Grameen Bank families.

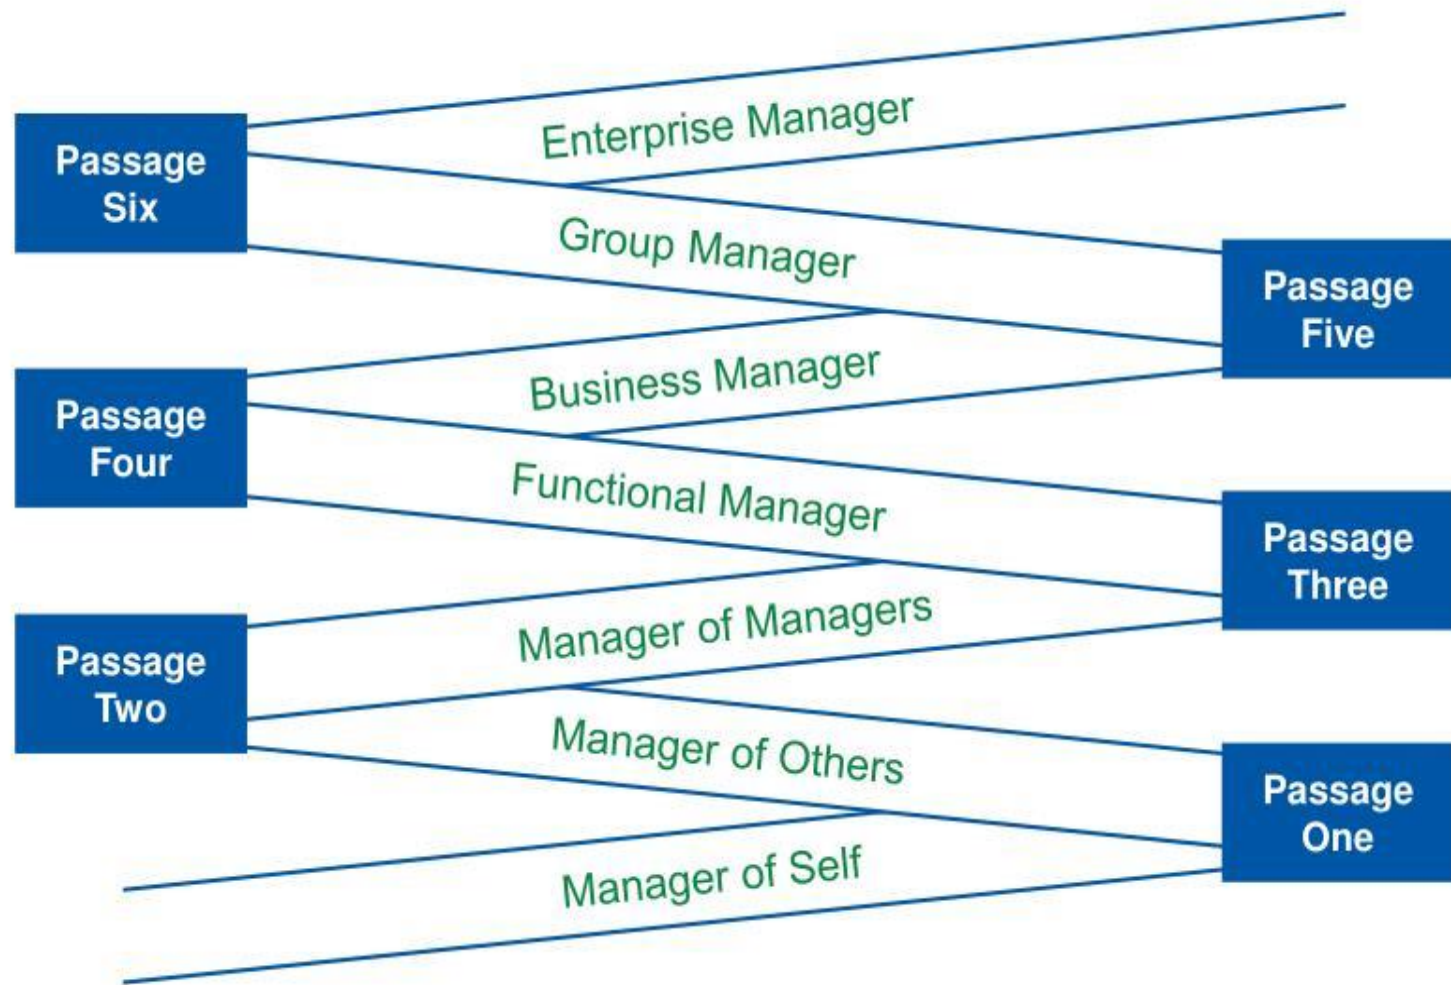

LEADERSHIP PIPELINE

A Leadership pipeline is another term for leadership development.

We can define it as,

“ The visual context and process where leader development is conceptualized, planned, and measured ”
